Entries are now open for the 2018 Sit Down, Shutup and Watch Film & New Media Festival

Pat Rix, CEO of Tutti Arts, has announced that entries are now open for the 2018 Sit Down, Shutup and Watch Film & New Media Festival, Australia's first and only learning disability led film festival. The festival welcomes short films of all genres where someone with a learning disability is at the centre of the creative process. Entries are open to film-makers based anywhere in the world.

The deadline for entries is 30 April 2018. Film-makers interested in entering can visit www.sitdownshutupandwatch.com for more information.

The bi-annual festival will next be held on 19 and 20 October 2018 in Angaston in South Australia's Barossa Valley. This will be the first time in the event's history that the festival has been held over two days.

The Sit Down, Shutup and Watch Film & New Media Festival is led by a steering committee of seven passionate film-makers and artists who all identify with a learning disability.

Sit Down, Shutup and Watch and Tutti Arts thank Arts South Australia, Richard Llewellyn Deaf & Disability Arts, Thyne Reid and Country Arts South Australia for their support.
